BOY, GIMME A PAPER!

HEY MISTER! HERE'S YER CHANGE. YER GAVE ME A QUARTER!

KEEP IT!

I WANT A CIGAR. THAT'LL LOOK WELL WITH THIS COAT.

THEN YOU WANT THE BEST IN THE HOUSE!

WELL, SHINE 'EM UP AGAIN! THEY CAN'T LOOK ANY TOO GOOD FOR THIS COAT.

WILL YOU LET ME HAVE YOUR COAT, SIR?

I GUESS NOT!

YOU BETTER WATCH THAT COAT!

What a Grand and Glorious Christmas It Will Be

Exquisite Hand-Made Blouses In Holiday Boxes

Every blouse is beautifully handdrawn 3.95 Every size in every style, sizes 34 to 44

SO sheer, so dainty, so fine in every respect that any woman would be overjoyed to find one among her Christmas gifts. They would make excellent "going away" gifts, so easy to pack and send through the mail.

There are three styles, all of sheer batiste with hand-drawn work on the collars and cuffs, and down the front. One has a vestee—the others have plain roll collars—all in pretty Christmas boxes!

Gloves

The Gift of Certain Appreciation

Suede 1.95 Doeskin 1.35

FROM the Knightly days, when a lady's glove was carried into the tournaments and brought back to her with pride and honor, gloves have had a significance undimmed by the intervening ages. Certain it is that today there is no more cherished gift of moderate price than gloves.

We are particularly fortunate in offering two new shipments.

300 pairs of suede gloves at 1.95

These are one-clasp gloves, in gray and beaver shades, with smart black embroidery.

300 pairs of doeskin gloves at 1.35

These one-clasp gloves, in natural shade, have prix seams and self-colored embroidery. They are excellent values indeed.

Insure your good fortune by shopping early in the day.

A Favorite Christmas Gift This Year Surplice Sweaters 3.95

YOUTHFUL, good-looking, tie back surplice sweaters of warm worsted, made with tuxedo collars and snug, well-fitting cuffs.

Surplice sweaters are extremely popular this year, especially with younger women who wear them with plaid skirts.

Almost any girl would be delighted to find one in her Christmas stocking!

Notice the choice of colors, brown, buff, pekin, navy and black.

Tremont Street—Third Floor

Brand New for Christmas Gifts Chiffon Velvet Bags

3.25

SO soft and pretty that they are bound to find their way into many Christmas stockings. There are two styles—one a pouch bag, the other an oval bag with a tassel. Some are on metal, others are on velvet covered frames. They all have velvet handles, dainty linings of silk poplin, inside purses and mirrors. The colors are brown, navy, black, and taupe.

Tremont Street—First Floor

Crisp Collars and Cuffs Make Dainty Gifts 1.00

COLLARS, collar and cuff sets of organdie—some quite simple—others trimmed with lace and all-over Venise lace. There are many different styles with both roll and slit collars.

Christmas Richness of Color and Material in

Pillows and Scarfs of Velour and Tapestry

ALL of us would give the richest of gifts, if our pocketbooks would only permit. But, careful choosing often can surmount all difficulties. Scarfs and pillows of rich toned velour, combined with kingly tapestry and touched off by gold braid and tassels make truly gorgeous gifts and the prices are not nearly so imposing as one might guess.

Scarfs in blue, rose, mulberry are 6.00 to 8.00
Pillows to match are only 7.00 to 12.00

Tartan pillows in gorgeous changeable shades in several shapes and beautifully trimmed are 7.00 to 10.00

Drury House—Winter Street—Third Floor

Dolls! Dolls! Dolls!

IT must be good old Santa has flung open the magic gates of Doll Land, for where in the world could so many dolls come from otherwise!

A fair, and for the most part feminine, army of wonderful Dolls have trooped into our new Doll Store and taken full possession. Dolls everywhere, some with glossy brunette wigs and some with sunny blonde wigs, some with blue eyes and others with gray eyes.

What joy will abound when some lassie spies a rosy faced doll peeping over the top of her well-filled Christmas stocking. It will be the realization of fondest dreams.

"Sussie Ann," sun-bonnet baby with pink or blue rompers or gingham dresses; hard to break; clothes may be removed from the stuffed, jointed body. 1.75

Full-jointed, undressed rosy-faced doll with either blonde or brunette wigs; 16 inches high. 2.25

Dolls who really go to sleep; blonde or brunette; full-jointed, stuffed; comes with cute booties. 2.50 to 7.50

Winter Street—Fourth Floor

In the Christmas Game Store

As you leave the elevator on the fourth floor you will find yourself in the midst of a new Christmas store which no one but Santa Claus could have designed. Here are all the Games, Picture Books, Building Blocks and Selected Toys which go to make up a happy child's Christmas. Groupings, as well as children, will find a warm Christmas welcome.

For Her Who Loves Comfort A Corduroy Bathrobe Only 5.95

THERE is a fine feeling of luxury in lying back in a cozy warm corduroy robe, and a wonderful feeling of relief to know that it is within reach on chilly mornings. Certainly there is no better gift for a woman or girl. Here are excellent ones in a charming breakfast coat style in light blue, cadet blue, coral, rose or lavender. The price is quite as interesting as the robe. 5.95

These will help make many a Christmas happy.

Christmas Dainties of Brocaded Silk

Showing the French Influence

THERE is no question that they were first designed and created in France—in Paris, without doubt.

They have all the gay daintiness, the brightness of color and unquestioned usefulness that is characteristic of the Parisienne.

What are they?

Powder boxes, handkerchief boxes, picture frames, mirrors, candy boxes, hairpin boxes, pin trays—all in pretty shades of blue and rose, and all finely trimmed with gold braid, a la Paris. Prices 1.15 to 5.25

Winter Street—Third Floor

Give Her a Dainty Satin Camisole 2.00

THESE are such pretty ones of particularly heavy satin with dainty trimming of Calais lace. Some are built up on the shoulder. Others have bodice tops decked with wee rosebuds.

You will love them and, surely, you will make no mistake in giving one to the woman or girl who loves dainty underthings.

Tremont Street—Third Floor

Could Christmas be Christmas without Slippers?

A BROAD, instead of hanging up stockings to be filled with presents by Santa, in some localities children put their slippers out to receive their gifts. We are no less dependent upon slippers here, for father would still continue to wear the ragged old pair he had a year ago and mother would have to forego the pleasure of stepping into warm "comfys" on frosty mornings, if slippers were not the best of all Christmas gifts.

We have given much attention to Christmas slippers and provided well for all the family—

For Father: A gray felt pair of leather soled slippers, made by "Daniel Green," who is famous for making slippers well. 3.00

For Mother: A pair of "Daniel Green Comfy Slippers" in her favorite color and daintily trimmed. 2.75

Plenty, too, for all the children down to the smallest.

Demand for Labor Decreased

56 Per Cent. in Year at State

Employment Office

The reason to be drawn from industry bulletin by Superintendent D. H. Barry

of the Massachusetts State

Employment office in Boston, will be that the man or woman with a good job will do well to be satisfied to hold it.

Superintendent Dunderdale reports

November "avalanche" of applications for employment.

Compared with the month of November last, the demand for help has fallen 56 per cent. $2.45 per cent. below the demand of October.

The average daily number of calls looking for work last month was 2,104, an increase of 88 over October.

Among the other calls of the employment office last month were 1,088 soldiers and 410 sailors, a total of 1,478 service men, "in transition" from military to civil life. There is no demand for schoolleavers and there is a big supply.

The demand for large, heavy work is very limited. There is an over-supply. Wages have dropped slightly.

DE VALERA DRIVE ALSO CLAIMED FOR BOSTON

New Organization Membership Campaign Opens at Symphony Mass Meeting

Senator William E. Burah of Idaho, who voted for the De Valera resolution favoring the recognition of the Irish republic, is expected to be the principal speaker at the mass meeting of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic, to be held in Symphony Hall at 8 o'clock to be announced later.

The meeting upon the membership drive of the new organization founded by De Valera, who is also expected to speak. Victor Herbert has been invited.

EXPECT 250,000 TO JOIN.
The object of the new organization is to secure public opinion favorable to upholding the existing republic of Ireland and to co-operate with the Irish people and their accredited representatives in their efforts to secure official recognition by the government of the United States. John P. Harrigan, of Worcester, president of the organization, is planning on enrolling 250,000 members in Massachusetts within a month.

Thomas M. Nolan of Somerville, State secretary of the new organization, announced that there is no friction with any other body devoted to the interests of Ireland, and that headquarters will hereafter be at room No. 29, American House, where all necessary information will be given prospective members.

"We expect the drive to start December 12 and continue to January 15," he said. "Branches of the Friends of Irish Freedom are joining our body. We wish to impress on prospective members that there will be no collection of money allowed at any of the numerous mass meetings we contemplate holding. The only collection taken up will be cards containing the names of new members. No tickets will be allowed to be sold at any of our formation meetings."

DRIVE MEETINGS TODAY.

A meeting of representatives of Irish organizations will be held at the American House, late today to prepare for the opening meeting. This evening in Hibernian Hall, Montvale avenue, Milton, there will be a meeting of the Irish societies in that section to arrange for the membership drive. Speakers will be Francis J. Hogan of Dorchester and Mrs. Frank Scanlan. Rev. John P. Gorham will preside.

HOTEL LENOX SUICIDE

FORMER BEAUTY DOCTOR

The woman who killed herself yesterday in Hotel Lenox has been identified as Mary E. Fuller, former Boston beauty doctor, and recently a patient at local insane institutions. In a note to Attorney Frank P. Ryan of Worcester, in which she used the name of Mary Elizabeth Fox, the suicide stated she suffered from recurring headaches and chose death as the only means of obtaining ease.

Miss Fuller was said to have maintained luxury parlors or beauty shops in Boston, Springfield and Worcester.

CHICAGO'S PONZI IS

GUILTY, JURY SAYS

Chicago, Dec. 3.—Chicago's colored Ponzi, Dr. J. Robert Robinson, was found guilty of a crime. A jury decided that fact. The "doctor" said the American Car & Foundry Company owed him $100,000 for infringement of patents for a "hard iron wheel." He intended using to recover and to raise money to defray expenses he told his notes for from ten to twenty-five times the amount he received. Hundreds, both white and colored, were taken in. Robinson went back and forth to court in a racing car with a liveried chauffeur.

BATTERY A VETERANS

TO DINE AT Y. D. CLUB

Battery A Veterans Association will have its annual dinner at the Y. D. Club tonight. Among the former officers expected are Brigadier-General E. H. Richardson and Captain T. L. Storer. The nomination committee will present the following list of officers: President, Colonel E. K. Hale; vice-president, Arthur Blake; and secretary-treasurer, Percy Carlton.

Counsel for Vermont Boy Declares He Was at Work on Night of Murder

Fairhaven, Vt., Dec. 3.—Counsel for Herbert Lovell, sixteen years old, charged with complicity in the killing of Owen Hayes, whose body was found in the Castleton river, announced today that he had established an alibi for his client.

They declared that a time card of the Vermont Milling Company at Fairhaven had been found showing that young Lovell worked all night on Friday and until Saturday morning, October 1, the night of the murder.

Lovell, with Peter Lemay, Lawson I. Hardwell and Joseph Duffey, was arrested following a statement made by fifteen-year-old Madeline Leves, who told the authorities that the men had killed and rolled Hayes' body into the river.

TO CUT COST OF SUGAR AGAIN

Pork Products, Wholesale, Have Gone Below the Level for the War Level

With sugar showing signs of dropping still lower and the wholesale price of meat of all kinds slumping daily in Chicago and the packing centers, Boston traders demand today that it would not be many days before food costs would approximate the figures of "before the war."

Dealers asserted today that sugar was due for another drop next week, and this despite the fact that granulated is selling at 9 1/2 cents the pound.

The cut is due, it is declared, to the enormous surplus supply of sugar which has flooded the market. The dealers say that there is no room for storing any more. When supply as many hundreds are now doing, as there is little likelihood that sugar will again climb to the heights of a few months ago. At Chicago, packers' prices for pork have dropped below the pre-war level of April 1, 1917, according to a review of the meat and livestock situation issued today by the Institute of American Meat Packers. Beef prices also have declined, the report says, carcass beef during the last week in November showing a drop of 2 per cent, over the price on Oct. 1 and 17 per cent, lower than on Sept. 1. The decline in pork prices during November, the report points out, amounted to 27 per cent, smoked hams 25 per cent, bacon from 15 to 25 per cent, and various other pork products from 19 to 47 per cent. Retail prices have not fallen so far as the wholesale prices.

Including trends for commodity prices and of grain the report declares were the chief causes for the reduction in the price of packers' products.

"Persons in the trade," the report says, "are reluctant to say whether or not the bottom of prices has been reached."

Figures furnished by the big packers and by retail dealers showing the range follow:

| PORK LOIN          |      |      |         |
|--------------------|------|------|---------|
| Packer's price     | 1919 | 1918 | Today   |
| Retailer (best)    | 50c  | 60c  | 25 1/2c |
| Cut price size     | 50c  | 60c  | 25 1/2c |
| FANCY SMOKED HAM   |      |      |         |
| Packer's price     | 1919 | 1918 | Today   |
| Retailer (best)    | 50c  | 60c  | 25 1/2c |
| Cut price size     | 50c  | 60c  | 25 1/2c |
| STANDARD LEAF LARD |      |      |         |
| Packer's price     | 1919 | 1918 | Today   |
| Retailer (best)    | 50c  | 60c  | 25 1/2c |
| Cut price size     | 50c  | 60c  | 25 1/2c |

Wholesalers and retailers are blaming the retailer for maintaining high prices for meat and thereby creating a continuous loss of business in the consumption. Dr. C. Brown, president of the National Livestock Exchange in Chicago, is quoted as having declared that the retailer is the "chief cause" for this. He demanded a more "equable" adjustment of the meat of foodstuffs, asserting that thousands of retailers are selling livestock at pre-war figures, while the consumer is getting little, if any, of the benefit. He urged the formation of a national organization to handle the problem of educating the retailer and consumer.

NORMAN HAPGOOD SPEAKS AT OLD SOUTH FORUM

"Getting rid of the war" will be the theme of Norman Hapgood of New York at the Old South Meeting House Forum, here, after dinner, it is announced that he will discuss many of the most important matters under a sub-division of the talk entitled "Recovering the Freedom of the Press."

SEES ADVANTAGE IN DISCONTENT OF WORKERS

Discontent among workmen leading to better results and continued improvement is to be desired rather than their contentment, declared Robert M. Wolf, industrial engineer and member of Charles M. Schwab's associates, in an address before the Harvard School Executive Chapter. "You're the mere animal, want us Mr. Wolf, must needs progress, building his efforts on past performance and improving his work. The discontented worker Mr. Wolf found preferable because "we want them to be always seeking improvement."

He told of improvements in machinery, which grew out of "discontent."

DR. ELIOT PREDICTS BETTER ERA IN RUSSIA

Work done by the American Quakers in France and Germany was praised by Dr. Charles W. Eliot, a member of the Boston Committee to the Medical Relief of Russia in the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Cabot. Dr. Eliot predicted that there "must soon come out of Russia government in which freedom will play for the first time a great part as Americans" won on the "crazy" "we should find a strong desire to help Russia because no man can realize as we can what an important role of the war was the destruction of Russian Czarism."

WANDERLIP DEAL IS CONFIRMED

Russian Foreign Minister Announces Huge Concessions to American Agent

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND.

Boston American Staff Correspondent: Berlin, Dec. 2.—Foreign Minister Tschernin of the Moscow Soviet government, in a radio dispatch to me today from Moscow, confirmed the Soviet deal with Washington D. Vanderlip, the Pacific coast commercial agent, for vast purchases in the United States, and that Siberian concessions had been granted him.

Tschernin, however, did not answer my question whether the Soviet government was as has been charged, giving the impression that they were dealing with the New York Vanderlip, and as Harding's representative. The wireless follows:

"The Soviet government has agreed to let a syndicate of Western American business men represented by Washington D. Vanderlip, exploit coal, oil and fish. It was also made an agreement was also made to have the syndicate, under certain conditions, translate Russian natural resources into American credits to finance huge purchases of American products for Russia.

"The Soviet government dealt with and regarded Mr. Vanderlip as the representative of the level-headed American business world which has been desirous of the advantages of close economic relations between Russia and America. It would be an insult to the intelligence of the coming American administration to think that it did not share this view."

NATION-WIDE HUNT IN SHOOTING OF BOXER

Providence, Dec. 2.—Chief Inspector John T. McGuire has sent out circulars in a country-wide hunt for Nicola Corvella, who is alleged to have shot James J. Delmont, a boxer known as Al Belmont, during a bout in a Federal Hall cage.

Three of the four women arrested in connection with the shooting are being held by the police as undesirable characters. Mrs. Ida Bassett, aged twenty-five, of No. 18 State street, New Bedford; Mrs. Estelle Bagnall, aged twenty-four, of No. 27 Carroll street, New Bedford; and Mary P. Desautels, aged twenty, of No. 31 Dean street, were discharged.

Delmont has lost three an even chance for recovery, according to the hospital authorities.

WALL STREET CARELESS IN HIRING MESSENGERS

Washington, Dec. 2.—Louse methods of New York brokerage houses in delivery of valuable securities were outlined in testimony by Wall Street messenger in the trial of Julius W. (Nick) Aronson and three other defendants charged with conspiracy to transport stolen bonds and stocks into the District of Columbia.

Several of the messengers testified that they were practically unknown to their employers and had not been employed from one day to a week before securities entrusted to them disappeared.

CENSURES RUM RUNNER WHO HAD SON'S AID

Manchester, N. H., Dec. 2.—Judge Boynton severely censured William W. Wicks, arrested in the Municipal Court for illegal transportation of liquor, for having his son, Louis Wicks, assist him. After having fined the father and son $25 and costs of $15 each, with a thirty-day suspended sentence, Judge Perkins doubled the father's fine and censured the fine of the son.

MOB EXCHANGES SHOTS WITH GUARD AT COURT

Goldens, N. C., Dec. 2.—State troops are reported on their way here as a result of an exchange of shots in a clash between disguised citizens and a mob which stormed the county courthouse, where five negroes were captured on trial for murder. One man is reported to have been seriously wounded in the exchange of shots, after which the mob dispersed.

UNIVERSITY OF MAINE DISCHARGES DIRECTOR

Bangor, Me., Dec. 2.—Charged with exceeding his authority, Charles D. Woods, employed for twenty-four years as director of the Maine Agricultural station at the University of Maine, has been removed by the trustees of the university. He had refused to resign. It was claimed that he had exceeded his authority by building a barn.

MANSLAUGHTER VERDICT AGAINST WIFE-SLAYER

Gloucester, Mass., Dec. 2.—Thirteen-year-old girl, who was found guilty in the Superior Criminal Court at Dedham of manslaughter in causing the death of her wife, Conchita Botto, by shooting her in the office of the night of February 25 while in the belief that she was killing her, was acquitted of a first-degree murder charge.

2 YEARS IN JAIL FOR FATAL BLOW

Michael McGovern's Victim in Dying Plea Asked That Attacker Be Not Prosecuted

Michael McGovern, a long-simmering inmate of the State Prison, was today sentenced to two years in the House of Correction for two years by Judge Mahoney, in the Superior Court after the accused had been found guilty of manslaughter. McGovern's victim on the fatal day of the murder on the Lyndale line docks, East Boston, made a dying plea that McGovern be not prosecuted for the deed.

The defendant in the case sought of an aged mother and dying sister in Ireland and has a wife in this city dependent upon him.

40,000 TO SEE BOSTON COLLEGE-HOLY CROSS GRIDIRON BATTLE

MARCOON AND GOLD RULES 3-2 FAVORITE TO WIN

The annual gridiron battle between Boston College and sturdy Holy Cross was the top event at Braves Field in the place, and from present indications, between 30,000 and 40,000 persons will comprise the audience.

The Catholic college championship of the Atlantic Coast is at stake in the game. A win for B. C. will give that team, in addition, the national title, for the Eastern title, while a win for Holy Cross will advance the Purple and Gold team higher than its record, high rating among the college teams of the section.

B. C. has the most to lose in the game and Holy Cross the most to gain. The recent announcement from New Haven strongly declared it is much too strong for the B. C. team to play in future games. In the opinion of the Purple and Gold team, the reputation of a team is not in the game, but in the way it is played. Both teams have been playing well, and the game is expected to be a close one.

Boston Is 3-2 Favorite for Last Contest

The Maroon and Gold team rules a 3-2 favorite but will enter the game in not quite so good a position as they did in the previous game. The Purple and Gold team, however, is in a much better position. The game is expected to be a close one.

Tom Scan, who has been Fitty's substitute, who is on the injured list as the result of the recent Georgetown clash. A third important member of the team, Jim Kennedy, is not expected to play at all. The Purple and Gold team is expected to be a close one.

Report Spears Signed for Two Years

Boston College showed a star in each position last week, but whether the Maroon and Gold players and substitutes will appear in the game against the Purple and Gold team is a question. The game is expected to be a close one.

Reports from Haverford "Claret" Brown have been offered the head coach position at Dartmouth for the next two years.

The next two years are likely to put a premium on the ability of the head coach to handle the Big Green team of the Purple and Gold.

For a time the latter tales have been rampant among the Purple and Gold team, but they are now being discounted.

CHAPTER XIV.

Jennie Feels Her Way.

THE girl had looked toward the electric-contrived stone wall that shut "Silver Bluff" off from the rest of the world. She had drawn up at the broad entrance of the house.

"Here we are, my dear," Mrs. Harrison said to Jennie. "And I hope you are going to like it and be free in it, just as though it were your own home."

"I'm sure I shall like Mrs. Harrison," Jennie replied with that pleasant smile which had become almost a natural part of her adopted character.

"She will show you to the room this morning," said Mrs. Harrison. "I'll be glad to see you."

"Thank you," said Jennie. "Two minutes later Mrs. Bluff left her room, saying she would return as soon as she had cleaned up a bit and got into fresh clothes. Jennie returned the official ministrations of Maggie and dismissed her."

"She had hardly had time to get into her room when she heard a knock. It was Mrs. Harrison's maid, who came to tell her that she had cleaned up a bit and got into fresh clothes."

"She had hardly had time to get into her room when she heard a knock. It was Mrs. Harrison's maid, who came to tell her that she had cleaned up a bit and got into fresh clothes."

What the Story Is About

How Jenny, the daughter of Black Jerry Malone, the keeper of a low dance hall in New York, was rescued in the very nick of time from her environment and introduced to exclusive New York society through the influence of a former crook in the thrilling basis of this new story, by the author of "Mary Regan."

The novel tells mainly of her adventures in the second of the two worlds through which her amazing career takes her, where reminders of her past appear, and the result is many thrilling and dramatic episodes.

Jennie had a dim secondary

THE BOSTON AMERICAN offers $5,000 in gold for photographs of lovely girls. To the girl declared by the judges to be the loveliest girl in New England, the American will pay $3,000 in gold. There will be two third prizes of $500 each. In setting. The judges will study the photographs, first for intelligence, second for health, and third for physical beauty. There are no strings attached. Just send in the photograph of your wife, sweetheart, sister or friend. All photographs will be given careful treatment and will be returned when the contest is over. Address all mail to "Loveliest Girl Contest," Boston American, P. O. Box 539, Boston 9, Mass.

FREIGHT CAR AUTO TRUCK.—An enterprising firm of auto truck body builders of Long Island built this truck and freight car body to fill a need caused by freight congestion. Sounds like a good idea offhand, but what about the roadway it tears up? Motor truck transportation is growing rapidly, which in all right provided an equitable system of taxation is devised to care for the highways and streets.

LITTLE HOUSE ON WHEELS.—Attention to the housing problem recently appeared on the streets of Paris in the form of a small two-story house on wheels, drawn by a motor car. The top floor folds up when desired.

BRIDE'S DIAMOND GARTER.—Now that slender and near-slender women are no longer wearing "snaps," the garter becomes a necessity in the absence of suspenders. Much interest, therefore, is being taken in the well-known garter. This lady is wearing a full dress garter which has a coiled snake nestling in the centre, with his tail in his mouth. Careful, girls, Cleopatra was bitten by a snake.

SHADES OF GRICE.—This is not a worker of magic but a young lady having a permanent wave put in her hair. The picture was taken at the recent International Hairdressing Exhibition and Competition in London. In these days of meteoric happenings are never know what to expect from members of the fair sex.

TAKING THE PULSE OF THE PURSE.—Several hundred medical students invaded the theatre district of London recently and made a novel campaign for funds for the London Hospital. They were dressed in their "working" clothes and armed with stethoscopes and other instruments. The photograph shows a student, examining a prospective "patient." His diagnosis cost her a pound (sterling).

DIANA AND THE HUNT.—Lady Diana Manners, Eric's lady, is a beauty and society leader, has signed a contract with an American movie producer. Diana hunts American dollars.

SCIENCE ON RAMPAGE.—The scientists are surely gilding up new ideas. Here's a wireless receiver that performs messages and then types them at the rate of 100 words a minute.

SCULPTURE IN TREES.—These two specimens took more than fifty years to cultivate into their present perfect form. Many hedges and trees at the summer homes of Greater Boston people have splendid work along this line. John Kinkaid of the Royal New Nurseries, London, is an expert in this line. He has a collection of trees including 3,000 designs. The above are two of his best specimens.

TODAY'S LESSON.—The imitators of P. T. Barnum would have the public believe that "The Wild Man From Borneo" is really wild. The five gentlemen above are Dyaks (citizens of Borneo), dressed for a festival. They dress much like Scotchmen below the waist, but wear only nature's tunics. They no longer hunt heads.

HAND CAR HAND ORGAN.—All in one. One of the Kaiser's former court attendants, who lost a soft job during the recent unpleasantness, has devised a novel method of getting both himself and his organ about the town. Propelling the cart gives him good practice for playing the organ. Also saves shoe leather.

LAUGH AND GROW FAT.—Know why happy people are usually fleshy? It's because folks with contented and happy minds digest their food well. Did you ever see a sour-natured individual who won't thinner than a boarding house cook? Anyone who can enjoy a hearty laugh of good clean mirth is good company for himself and everybody he comes in contact with. Even a good ape enjoys a joke.

Cut Out Railroad Graft at Top, Says Anderson

Judge George W. Anderson of the United States Court for the New England district, and once a member of the Massachusetts Public Utilities Commission and the United States Interstate Commerce Commission, made an interesting address at a conference called in Boston to devise ways and means of increasing the revenues of the New England railroads, which are declared to be at the point of bankruptcy and receivership.

Of course, at such a meeting the vast majority would be friends of private management of the railroads, and, of course, at such a meeting the burden of the swan song would be the inefficiency and sabotage of labor, and wages that are too high and hours of labor that are too short.

So Judge Anderson, as he must have expected, listened to that sort of talk, in which labor was made the goat for everything which could not be blamed on the government. Watered stock, reorganization rife-offs, the uneconomical extension of lines for the private profit of insiders, rebates, discriminations, and all the practices of private management before the government took control during the war, and which have brought the railroads of the country to their knees, naturally found no place in the discussion at this conference.

But, apparently, Judge Anderson was himself willing that these trifling causes of railroad debility should not be raised, like the ghost of Hamlet, at every meeting of the friends of private management. However inadequate he might have considered any discussion bearing upon the question of increasing the net revenues of American railroads, which omitted the fundamental causes of their present condition, he was content to limit himself to discussing the responsibility of labor and management at the moment for present conditions. He declared that before the government took the railroads the exploitation of labor by the old private management had been inhuman. Now, he admitted that there were instances when a standardized wage worked out inequalities that were unfair, particularly to the New England railroads. He cited the example of a station agent in a small New England village where the station has to be kept open so small a part of the day that the station agent is able to go on with his other business, with practically no serious interruption. He said that it was not fair that this man should be paid as much as the station agent in larger cities, where the station agent has to give his whole time to his station work and has no time for other gainful occupation, and where also the cost of living is higher.

Judge Anderson called this "honest graft at the bottom," and he contrasted it with "dishonest graft at the top." Then he concluded with this significant statement:

But if waste, inefficiency and so-called honest graft at the bottom are to be dealt with, so must the same destructive factors at the top. Many salaries and fees paid by our railroads to fortunate insiders have been a scandal and a reproach for years.

The rake-off allowed for furnishing new capital and in connection with the purchase of supplies and materials for interlocking industries must be eliminated; otherwise, there is no use discussing honesty, efficiency and economy with the wage-earner. It is no use preaching to the people down the line until the people up at the top show that they are ready to practice what they preach.

Unless this graft in private management of the railroads can be eliminated, Judge Anderson declared that New England would be involved in an economic decay.

But Judge Anderson knows from his experience as a public servant, charged with the duty of regulating on behalf of the people the railroads, that while private management continues, this kind of graft will not be eliminated. It is part of the system itself. The private management of the railroads exist for the purpose of this kind of graft. Eliminate it and you would at once eliminate the motive of private management, and the government would resume an appropriate function almost automatically. The day that the private graft in the private management of railroads comes to an end nobody will want private management, because the disinterested part of the community, which now thinks it better in private management is under the influence of private management propaganda, and the powerful persuasions of those who control business credits. When that propaganda ceases, and the banker control ceases to yield good profits, the truth about private management would soon be told and nobody would defend it.

Thus, the government would resume the operation of the railroads.

Regarding College Education And Its Rapid Growth

The Institute for Public Service calls attention to a most important and interesting fact concerning which we imagine the public has not previously had knowledge. The institute declares that from 1914 to 1920, in six years, the enrollment of our American colleges has increased from 187,000 to the relatively extraordinary total of 294,000. The institute calculates that at that rate of increase, in ten years the enrollment in our colleges will be nearly 700,000 and that in 1950 there will be over 1,100,000.

We imagine that the percentage of increase will not be maintained through the coming years, for it is our guess that the increase notably from 1914 to 1920 has an important relation to the increase of wages which began at the outbreak of the great war and continued to the middle of this year. Now wages are beginning to fall, unemployment is setting in and we can hardly expect the ratio of increase in college enrollments to be maintained.

However, no matter what the college enrollment may fall off relatively, the fact remains that it responded wonderfully, even dramatically, to the increase of wages in the country. That is a splendid bit of evidence of the seriousness-mindedness, the ambition of the American people—especially of the great mass of our people. It shows also the benefits of high wages.

Think of a nation with a million of its young men and women attending our institutions of higher learning! Think of turning out two or three hundred thousand college graduates every year!

A college education does not make a man or a woman of knowledge can come and wisdom can linger. But it develops the mind just as exercise develops the muscles of the body, and the group of men and women who have a college education will handle problems which require the exercise of the mind much better than the same number of men and women who have not had the advantage of a college education, just as a group of men and women who have taken bodily exercise will average a better physical performance than the same number of men and women who have not taken bodily exercise.

The House Huntings of Hubert No. 5

Our friend, Hubert Hardluck, after reading Robinson Crusoe, decides to go to the island of Juan Fernandez and live rent free in the little hut that Crusoe left. He puts in electric light and telephone service and then learns that the hut belongs to the Juan Fernandez Improvement Company and he has to pay rent.

More Truth Than Poetry

The Useful Workers

By S. E. KISER

THE lady who is passing in the gleaming limousine
Forgets about the worker at the ponderous machine;
She will waste no time in thinking of the men who spend their days Where the clanking cranes are swinging and the busy forges blaze.

Lolling back among her cushions, richly dressed and free from care, She forgets about the workers who must work to keep her there.

THE fat old men conferring in their closely guarded rooms
Forget the stunted workers who go daily to their looms.

Where gray and wide directors hear reports and make demands Little thought is ever wasted on the men with greasy hands.

There are problems to consider, they must study them with care;
But if no man had to labor they would not be meeting there.

THE man whose voice has brought him wide renown and made him proud Wastes no thought upon the workers while he bows before the crowd;

He forgets that all the boxes in which beauty is displayed
Would be empty if no toiler worked with plow or pick or spade.

We need the great and gifted; give them lofty seats to share;
But, after all, the workers are the ones who keep them there.

THE man who looks for pull is usually those who most need push; to get what's coming we just need to keep going.

Greediness is the worst form of poverty; its wants can never be satisfied.

There are more human sacrifices to the god of pleasure than to the god of war.

He who accumulates a host of bad habits need fear no other enemy, for they will accomplish his downfall unaided.

Letters to the Editor

Wants Debs Freed

Editor Boston American:
Dear Sir—On November 5, 1920
2,000,000 American citizens voted against the incarceration of Eugene Victor Debs. How much longer are the world's foremost political prisoner and his comrades to remain behind prison bars? The United States stands alone in the persecution of those men and women who refused to sanction the slaughter of their fellow believers. Eugene Victor Debs is a product of the working class. He has championed the cause of the under dog for half a century. Susan
B. Anthony, Robert Ingersoll, Wendell Phillips, James Whitcomb Riley, Eugene Field and hundreds of other apostles of human liberty were proud to be his friends. Debs' abilities, violence and bloodshed and his opposition to the war was due to his unwavering loyalty to the principles to which he has consecrated his very life. It is of this man that President-elect Harding has the effrontery to speak as constituting a worse menace to civilization than the country's pagans. As for the present White House autocrat, the brutal and fiendish treatment to which conscientious objectors have been subjected speaks for itself. Our Revolutionary forbears founded this Republic for a purpose other than to fill fearless courage in the battle for an unshackled humanity.

VICTOR GERTLIN,
Dorchester.

YE TOWNE GOSSIP

By K. C. B.

Mr. K. C. B.—Dear Sir: Your fondness for dogs and cats is so pronounced I would suggest that you buy one of those abandoned Connecticut farms, such as Irvn Cobb bought, and gather up all the stray cats and dogs and take them out there.
As a peace offering, let me add that along other lines you seem perfectly sane.

MY DEAR HENRY,
IT'S STRANGE.
BUT LOTS of times
I'VE HAD a thought,
THAT IF Henry Ford,

I'D TAKE the money.
AND GO me out.
AND BUY a farm.
AND EVERY time,
THERE COME my way.
A HOMELESS dog.
OR HOMELESS cat.
I'D SEND it there.
BUT ALSO, Henry,

cause most men who got the D.
S. M. did something really meritorious in the line of duty, although even the D. S. M. there were some mistakes.

There were mainly mistakes of omission, however. A great many men entitled to the Cross failed to get it. There may have been a few men given the Cross who were not entitled to it, but I doubt it.

I have never heard of a couple of men who were relieved of their command in France subsequently getting the D. S. M. After the war was over the big guns of the army hastily began propitiating the disgruntled ones, and the D.
S. M. seemed to have been picked as a route to the disgruntled heart.

God's Motto

By Ella Wheeler Wilcox

THIS is the season of wooing and mating,
The heart of Nature calls out for its own.
And God have pity on those who are waiting
The fair unfolding of Spring alone.

For the fowls fly north in pairs together,
And two by two are the leaves unfurled,
And the whole intent of the wind and weather
Is to awaken love in the thought of the world.

Up through the soil where the grass is springing,
To flaunt green flags in the golden light,
Each little sprout its mate is bringing (Oh, one little sprout were a lonely sight).

We wake at dawn with the silvery patter
Of bird notes falling like showers of rain,
And need but listen to prove their chatter
The amorous echo of love's sweet pain.

In the buzz of the bee and the strong steed's neighing,
In the bustling bud and the heart's unrest,
The voice of Nature again is saying,
In God's own motto, that love is best.

For this is the season of wooing and mating,
The heart of Nature calls out for its own;
And oh! the sorrow of souls that are waiting
The soft unfolding of Spring alone.

THE fundamentals of education are to be found in the child himself, not in any theory of groups, or in any institution.

Instead, therefore, of forcing the child through a fixed course of study, examine him, see what his needs are, what are his leanings and what his defects. No two children are alike.

A child may have the makings of a first-class actor or orator and be unacquainted with the funda-mentals of arithmetic. In that case, why pound mathematics into him?

(4) The supreme question for the child trainer should be: "What are the child's interests?"

Culture simply means the development of right wants.

The object of education is not to supply information, but to create desires.

(5) Education should be a process of doing, not learning rules.
Every child is a bundle of activities. He wants to be busy every waking hour. All there is to education is to direct those activities.

For the only way to learn how to swim is to jump in and paddle.
A few hints may help, such as warning the swimmer to breathe in by the mouth and out by the nose, but the main thing is practice.

And that is just as true of literature as it is of swimming. Do the thing, then learn the rule.

(6) The incentive to progress ought to be the stimulation of a great desire in the child to learn.
To awaken that is the teacher's qualification for his business.

I would test all applicants for teaching positions by this, not how much they know, what schools have you attended and what degrees have you won, but how many children would you make children like to learn?

That's all.

A perfectly ignorant teacher that can light the flame of desire for knowledge in a child, even if he cannot satisfy it, and has to study himself to get the answers.
Is better than a college graduate that is unelectric and makes pupils hate study.

(7) Mark, promotion, examinations, grades and prizes are abominations.

They are unethical and cheap.

(8) One great end of education has ought forever to be kept in mind is that the greatest enemy of attainment is fear. It is indeed of life itself, is fear.

No man or woman can ever do good work in the world until he has shaken from his hands, his feet his head and his heart the chains of fear.

The very first lesson to teach a baby is to be unafraid.

Hence, have no fear. No child can ever fall to the ground.
He gets it always. It is for you to see that he gets the right one.

ONCE-OVERS

THINK OVER YOUR INCOME
Prices go up and prices go down, but there is never a time when it does not behoove a man to look after his expense budget.

Another year is rapidly drawing to a close and you have some sort of an idea whether you are going to be ahead or behind with your savings balance.

Just what is the cause of your inability to show a comfortable sum in the bank?

Suppose you go over the matter carefully and decide where you are at fault, if the fault be yours, and decide it before you get too deeply into the Christmas expenses which may be all unproductive.

If you have some idea of what your next year's salary or wage will be and you know the rate of advance in rent have spent your money to live, just go over the figures and make the expenditures you ought to have, figure out how much you can "top up" beyond that point, as the "cash" reliever, "savings" and "top up" money.

Be ready to "top up" your "top up" money, if you have a "top up" money new budget, which should be an almost, planned to be able to lay aside for the rainy day.

Preparation may serve to keep the rainy day away.

FRANCE and England. It is reported will not permit former King Constantine to return to the Greek throne, even if a majority of the people of Greece happen to vote in favor of his resumption of the crown.

As for Harding, neither France nor England seems to be inclined to prevent him from taking the presidential chair when the proper time comes.

A FAULTY ARRANGEMENT
In some countries only fat women are considered beautiful, but they are poor creatures even for fat women.
